Co-Communications Expands to New Location

Mount Kisco, NY (02/04/2008) – Co-Communications, Inc., a full-service public relations and marketing company, has relocated its headquarters to 332 Main Street, Mt. Kisco, New York. The move marks an expansion and record growth for the company, which has more than doubled its previous office space and now occupies a 3,100 square feet two-story building owned by Buckingham Properties. In its tenth year of business, Co-Communications recently opened a Connecticut office, welcomed four new team members, and significantly increased its client base.

“We measure our success in the success of our clients and look forward to channeling our energy into effective marketing programs for our current and new clients,” said Stacey Cohen, president and founder of Co-Communications. “We have worked extremely hard to preserve the quality and level of our service throughout our growth. Our new location enables us to meet the expanding needs of our clients while providing us with much needed space to build our staff.”

Established in 1997, Co-Communications is an integrated marketing company that provides results-oriented communication strategies to maximize its client’s exposure and market share. Co-Communications has been awarded the 2006 Forbes Enterprise Award, the Journal News “Best of Show” by the Advertising Club of Westchester, two PRSA Mercury Gold Awards, and numerous other honors.
